A Gift, Including the Old Church Tower and the Magazine, From Mrs. Louise J. Barney to the Association.

Wednesday, March 1, 1893, will long be remembered by the members of the Assoclation for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, for it was the date of the reception by them of a generous gift from an adopted son of Virginia, now the owner of historic Jamestown Island.

As is well known, one of the first and foremost objects had in view by this most laudable organization of representative Virginians was the acquisition of Jamestown Island, the point of occupancy of the first white settlement of America.

This spot, full of sacred historic memories, is dear to every Virginian, and the association has been working with more or less success towards the preservation and restoration of the ancient church tower, the oil magazine and the other venerable landmarks on the Island.

The association has sent representatives to the island frequently preparing plans for the care of these fast crumbling pelics of by-gone days. Entertainments, balls and lectures have been given to raise funds for this purpose, and the association had some money in hand as a nucleus for future addition and work

The le'and had been in possession of Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Brown, who claimed a fee simple absolute to the property. An effort was made by the association to purchase from them the ground on which was the old church tower and the church-yard, in which rest the remains of so many of Virginia's distinguished dead, but without avail, for, as I hear, these owners wanted from $3,500 to $5,000 for an acre or so of ground, which the association was unable and united. which the association was unable and unwilling to pay.

The association then applied to and obtained from the last Legislature of the State a legislative grant for all the right and title of the State of Virginia to the church-yard and church tower. In the meantime Mr. Edward E. Barney, late of Dayton, O., and for some years resident at Homewood, Surry county, purchased Jamestown Island from Mr.

The association soon began negotiations with this gentleman regarding a prospec-tive amicable arrangement for purchase of the land they desired.

The subject found a ready and sympa-thetic listener in Mr. Barney, and he promised to give the matter his careful ensideration, assuring the committee of the association who called on him of his hearty desire to do all in his power to aid them in their noble and patriotic efforts to restore, preserve and improve that most sacred historic spot.

On a recent visit to Richmond Mr. Barney met informally representatives of the association and told them of the desire of Mrs. Louise J. Barney, his wife sire of Mrs. Louise J. Barney, his wife, who had always manifested deep interest in Jamestown, to have him make a deed to the association of not only the quan tity of land they desired referred to of not less than twenty acres.

The members of the association were further granted perpetually free access through his grounds and prospective park and the free use of the new wharves and bridges to the main land he is about

Mr. Barney's intention of beautifying the island with parks, building a hotel, and making an attractive spot of it for excursions from the cities of Richmond, Norfolk, Petersburg, Washington, and other points North and South, in con-nection with the new line of steamers on James river, of which lately incorporated has been told of before in this

The association is to co-operate with Mr. Barney in the protection by seawalls of the beach and shores of the island, from the incursions of the water of the river, which has lately been washing away ts banks and shores at an alarming ate, endangering the old tower. The estimate of engineers has been that s few years more would have seen more encroachment on the island. This co-operation of the association with Mr. Barney will add new interest and life to the movement towards the ends it has in view, and will attract attention to Jamestown in a widespread way and manner never before dreamed of by the most sanguine of the devoted few who have labored for the restoration of this hallowed ground.

The enterprise of Mr. Barney has been fully evidenced by his reclamation from marshes by improved systems of dykes, and drainage of what are now the fine plantations of Homewood, in Surry, 3,200 acres, and Meadowville, in Chesterfield, 2 200 acres.

Jamestown Island, comprising sor 1.600 acres, will receive the same careful attention and improvement, and in addi-tion will be made attractive to the tourist and pleasure-seeker, as well as the student of history.

Such, in brief, were the record and plans which this gentleman formally laid before the board of managers of the association, at their called meeting held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Parke C. Bagby, its faithful corre-sponding secretary, No. 311 east Grace

There were then present the following representative gathering of the ladies and gentlemen of the board: Mrs. P. W. Mc-Kinney, Mrs. James Lyons, Mrs. T. N. Carter, Mrs. E. T. Crump, Mrs. T. N. Seddon, Mrs. J. S. Wellford, Mrs. G. W. Bagby, Colonel Arches, A. A. Bagby, Colonel Archer Anderson, Major E. T. D. Myers, Mr. Edward V. Valentine, Mr. Thomas N. Carter, Mr. J. Alston Cabell, Mr. William L. Sheppard, Mr. Joseph Bryan, Mr. Wyndham R. Meradith and Mr. R. A. Brock.

The report from the committee regardance in the formula conference with Mr. Bart.

ing its informal conference with Mr. Bar-pey, and covering formally the proposi-tion from him to the board on behalf of s. Farney, the merit of which he destiy declined to have ascribed to m was attentively heard with the utmost satisfaction.

Resolutions authorizing the prompt conmumation of necessary steps in the way of recording papers of conveyance and agreements, in all their legal details, were nptly adopted with the hearty thanks of the board.

On February 10th a policeman of this city in the discharge of his duties com-pelled a driver of one of Mr. R. B. pelied a driver of one of Mr. R. B. Chaffin's wagons to unlock one of its wheels on Main street between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets. The wagon was going in an easterly direction, and being on a downward grade the wheel had been locked.

After arriving at the farm the driver reported the matter to Mr. Chaffin, and stated that he could not drive down Main street with safety without locking his wagon. On February 14th Mr. Chaffin notified the chief of police in this city that he considered the city ordinance in question illegal, and, if the official would send an officer, the latter could see him lock his own wagon and make a test case of it.

This was done, and Mr. Chaffin was reported. On February 15th the Police Justice fined Mr. Chaffin 519, which the latter refused to pay and asked to be sent to jall in order to secure a writ of habeas

There was universal disgust among the sports last universal disgust among the storts last night. On a previous occasion Ryan had fallen ill just before the time to enter the ring. His present indisposition has put a damper on the fistic carnival, and he is being denounced on all sides, but whether justly or not, remains to be seen. There were some last night who were unkind enough to declare that he had purposely sustained the injury for fear of being whipped. Those who saw him last Sunday say he was in perfect condition, and that it was dollars to shoe strings that he would win. It is hard, however, to convince the general sporting public that he would win. It is hard, however, to convince the general sporting public that there is not, as "Cat Billy" Williamson says, a thin streak of yellow in the Chicago man's make-up. Ryan's representatives tried hard to secure a postponement of the fight, and agreed to make Dawson a present of $500 if he would not claim the forfeit. Wise Billy Madden, however, could not see it that way. To-morrow night the Lewis and Re wrestling match will take place. HANCHETT'S CONFIRMATION. Reported Favorably, But This is as Far as it is Likely to Get.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1 .- After three ineffectual attempts to get an executive session, the Republicans were successful to-day, the understanding being, however, that nothing of a disputed character should be considered. Accordingly, when Mr. Sherman made the motion, there was no opposition. The ses-sion fasted for half an hour. As wis intimated in these dispatches a few days ago, the effort was made to reconsider ago, the effort was made to reconsider the vote by which the nomination of Mr. John V. L. Findlay, of Maryland, to be Chilian arbitrator, was rejected. The effort was not a very hearty one and met with failure. Mr. Sherman made the motion to reconsider, and in support of that motion, introduced various papers. The Republicans looked upon the matter as something for the Democrats to settle. Mr. Findlay was a Democrat, and although nominated by Mr. Harrison, they said he was opposed by the Mary-land delegation, and they were willing to let it go at that and permit Mr. Cleveto let it go at that and permit Mr. Cleve-land to make the selection for the of-fice. The result being apparent, it is said that no formal vote was taken, and the rejection of the nominee was subsequently made public. The tacit agreement regarding disputed nomina-tions did not prevent the preliminary steps being taken in the Hanchett nom-ination. As soon as the executive sesination. As soon as the executive ses-sion began this nomination was referred to the Judiciary Committee, and before it was over the committee held a meeting on the floor, and by a strict party vote reported the nomination favorably. Of course this was as far as the matter could proceed to-day, and Republicans admit that there is little hope of the confirmation of Mr. Hanchett. A number of naval nominations were confirmed, of naval nominations were confirmed, but the names of a number of well-known gentlemen are not upon the list that was given out. Among these missing names is that of Lieutenant Dupray, nominated to be paymaster, with the rank and pay of a major. The nomination of Dennis T. Kirby to be captain in the army, which was protested against by army officers stationed at Detroit, was also unacted upon. It is said that another attempt will be made to hold an executive session for the purpose of an executive session for the purpose of clearing up the calendar as quick as pos-

IRISH EDUCATIONAL BILL.

The Motion to Adopt Its Second Reading Defeated_The Debate.

LONDON, March 1 .- Lord Frederick Hamilton, Conservative member of Parliament for North Tyrone, in moving today the second reading of the Irish Edu-cational bill, urged that the Irish board of education cught to be controlled by Parliament. In justice to the minority in Ireland he further called attention to the fact that it was the only board of the kind in the Kingdom amenable to parliamentary control.
